

Arvind Thanvi (IIT Kharagpur alumnus)

Social Entrepreneur | Building Technology for Impact | Startup Mentor | Techno-Social Innovator | Intervention Designer | Jaipur, Rajasthan

Arvind Thanvi is a social entrepreneur and startup mentor who traded a 15-year global IT career to revolutionize education in rural and tribal India. An IIT Kharagpur graduate (1997), he returned to his roots in Jaipur in 2012, driven by a stark realization: quality education is a privilege, not a right, for millions of government school children.

He founded Moinee Foundation and pioneered internet-free, local-language-first grassroots tech solutions that work where connectivity doesn't. Over the past 13 years, his award-winning innovations have reached 1.5 million+ learners across 20 Indian states in 10 languages—bridging the gap between aspiration and access, one student at a time.
