

Dr. Nilima Kumari is Professor in the Department of Bioscience and Biotechnology, Banasthali Vidyapith, Rajasthan. She obtained her Ph.D. (Biotechnology) in 2005 and has doctoral and postdoctoral visits in famous institutions in Germany and Finland. She has an impeccable track record in academics with a standing of around 25 years. She is currently working in Plant Biotechnology and has made significant contributions in Plant Stress Biology which have been globally acclaimed. She has published over 75 research papers in highly reputed journals. She has also guided 23 Ph.D. students many of whom are well placed in academics and industry. She has also been conferred with two Young Scientist Awards, one Woman Scientist Medal and one Distinguished Scientist Award by reputed national scientific societies.